Tragedy of blaze victim

DEVASTATING: The aftermath of the fire in Bellings Road in March

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A RETIRED police officer who was heard calling for help as his home went up in flames had just had a baby son, an inquest heard on Tuesday.

Delroy Watson, 48, of Bellings Road, Haverhill, died of carbon monoxide poisoning during the blaze at his home, coroner Yvonne Blake concluded.

The fire began in the early hours of the morning on March 19 this year.

Ms Blake said the fire was "most likely to be electrical in origin".

She said Mr Watson's neighbours, who had lived beside him for 10 years, "were awakened to the sound of three bangs and heard him saying 'help me'" at about 2.20am.

When they went outside, they saw two male neighbours attempting to break down the door.

The men were then let inside using a spare key, and went up to the top floor to try to help Mr Watson, above. They could hear him calling from a room they believed to be the study of the house, but were not able to make it through the thick black smoke.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service had been called by two female neighbours, and arrived at the scene after the neighbours' rescue attempt.

Ms Blake said: "The fire brigade attended the three-storey house fire but were unable to get to the top floor landing due to heat and smoke."

Mr Watson's body was later recovered from the top-floor landing.

Mr Watson's wife, Rachel Joanna Watson, had given birth to a son, Jacob, in January.

She and the baby were in Walthamstow, London, at the time of the fire, looking for new accommodation there for the whole family.

She had visited Mr Watson on July 15 and 16. He had planned to travel down to London the day before the fire, July 18, but had been prevented by a flat tyre on his car.

He had emailed his wife telling her he would not be able to come and asking her to wake him in the morning.

Mr Watson had retired from the Metropolitan Police in 2013 when he was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. He had been informed this year that the condition was progressive, but according to his wife's evidence, he was "staying positive".

The inquest took place at the Active Business Centre in Bury St Edmunds.

'SYMBOLIC': Scam mail, which were collected, went up in flames at the bonfire

Up in flames – 4,000 scam letters

A 'SYMBOLIC' bonfire held on Tuesday saw 4,000 pieces of scam mail go up in smoke.

The letters had been collected as part of Suffolk County Council's 'Scamnesty' campaign, in which yellow bins for scam mail were placed in public locations.

Cllr Sarah Stamp, the county council's cabinet member for communities, said: "It was a tremendously successful campaign. Over 4,000 were collected and it felt very symbolic as we stood there that there were 4,000 people who were not going to be ripped off."

She said that this was not the end of the county's fight against scammers.

Cllr Stamp went on: "They are hardcore professional criminals who are deliberately targeting the most vulnerable people in our society."

CRIME

Burglars take iPad and cash

MORE than £4,000 worth of goods and cash have been stolen in burglaries over the past week.

Police are urging residents to be careful and not leave doors and windows open.

A home in Haverhill's Ickleton Place suffered a break-in on Thursday, August 6, between 12.15pm and 2.05pm.

The burglars took luggage and various items of jewellery, as well as electrical equipment including an iPad and two laptops.

The value of the stolen goods is estimated to be a whopping £3,200.

Burglars have also targeted two properties in Chauntry Road over the last week.

One home was burgled on the afternoon of Saturday, August 8, between 2pm and 4.30pm. Change and banknotes were stolen from this address, adding up to a total of £1,167.

Another attempted burglary took place on Chauntry Road around the same time, although it was not discovered until later. A window was broken but nothing was taken.

Detective Sergeant Ann Naylor, of the Bury St Edmunds CID, said: "There has been a small number of burglaries in the Haverhill area recently and as always we would urge residents to ensure they have secured their doors and windows properly to deny opportunist burglars an easy target."

"This is something to be especially mindful of throughout the summer months, when people are more likely to have windows and doors open during warm weather and can either go out or go to bed forgetting to lock them."

"However, some of these burglaries have involved entry being forced during the daytime, which is a trend that has increased across the county over the past year. Due to this we have been appealing for local communities to be our and ears and 'See it, Hear it, Report it' which is a campaign urging residents to be vigilant and to contact us if they believe they have witnessed any suspicious behaviour in their neighbourhood."

Anyone who has information about any of the recent burglaries, or who believes they have seen any suspicious persons or vehicles in their community, is asked to contact Bury St Edmunds CID on 101. Quote crime reference number HH/15/1983 for the Ickleton Place burglary, HH/15/2003 for the Chauntry Road burglary and HH/15/2010 for the attempted burglary. Alternatively, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

If you believe a crime is in progress, always dial 999.

FIRE

11 fire engines attend as 10 hectares of crops catch light

TEN hectares of crops went up in smoke during a combine harvester fire in Clare on Monday.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service received a call about the fire, at Mill Farm in the village's Ashen Road, at 10.46am.

They called Essex Fire and Rescue Service at 11.42am.

The fire was attended by 11 appliances, including one water carrier.

One of the engines came from Halstead in Essex and the rest were from various Suffolk locations including Long Melford, Sudbury, Wickhambrook and Haverhill.

The firefighters used five beaters and six hosereel jets to get the fire under control.

It was extinguished at 12.28pm, but crews stayed on the scene completing checks until 9.15pm in the evening.

The fire affected a combine harvester on the farm and 10 hectares of standing crops and stubble.

Grant will help Dan learn to fly

A YOUNG man is about to take to the skies – thanks to a scholarship which will help him learn to fly.

Haverhill resident Dan Badcock, who works as a trainee at Monarch Aircraft Engineering, was awarded the Geoffrey De Hallivand Scholarship by the Worshipful Company of Coachmakers.

The award is given to a person aged under 30 who has not previously received any such grant.

The aim is to make a significant difference to that person's ability to learn to fly.

Dan said: "This scholarship provides me with the perfect opportunity to fulfill my lifelong dream to start my flying training."

COURT

Man stole £5k from employer

A MAN stole more than £5,000 in cash from his employer – and felt so guilty he threw some of it in a bin.

Glenn Michael Watts, 42, of St Botolph's Place, Haverhill, admitted stealing from his employers at Cambridge Magistrates' Court on Friday.

Watts worked for G4S, a company that organises secure delivery of cash. He was a driver collecting deliveries of cash from safes.

On three occasions in May, the court heard, Watts picked up a delivery from a Center Parcs in Woburn, Bedfordshire, and found that the packets of cash were not properly sealed.

Paul Brown, prosecuting, said on the second of the three occasions, on May 25, Watts had "gone to Center Parcs and saw the bags were not sealed correctly so he dipped in and grabbed a handful of cash."

He added: "He felt guilty so he threw it away. He said he threw the cash into a public bin. The money has not been retrieved."

On May 25 he stole £2,100.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The incident followed another occasion on May 17 when Watts had stolen £1,800.

He was arrested on May 29 at his place of work after stealing a further £1,620 from another incorrectly-sealed package.

When he was arrested, the money he had stolen that day was discovered inside a holdall.

Mr Brown said: "He was already late and he tried to complete the job quickly. He noticed that both the security tags had not been sealed correctly."

"He grabbed a handful and he placed the cash inside the holdall. He felt bad about it and considered throwing the money away. He forgot to do that and returned to the depot, which is where he was searched."

The £1,620 was recovered but the rest of the money – £3,900 – was not.

Defending, Simon Rice said: "On each occasion, for some inexplicable reason, Mr Watts stuck his hand in."

"Mr Watts was earning, before tax, about £2,100 per month. He had a great job, which he did relatively enjoy. He had no requirement for money. He had no debts, he had no drug problem."

He added that Watts had previously worked in the collecting office which processes deliveries, and "knew straight away that he was going to be found out".

Watts also pleaded guilty to possessing cannabis, but Mr Rice said: "This cannabis could not actually be consumed. It was so old it had flies or moths living in it."

Watts was given a 30-week suspended sentence, with a requirement of 240 hours' unpaid work.

He was ordered to pay back the £3,900 that had not been recovered, and a further £345 in court costs.

Help raise funds for animals

AN ambitious fundraising event is aiming to raise money for five animal charities.

The fundraising afternoon will take place at the Barnardiston Arms in Kedington on Saturday, August 22.

The day will include stalls, music, a tombola and a coconut shy, cream teas, refreshments and face-painting.

Two raffles, one for children and one for adults, will take place. Prizes in the "adult raffle" include a Sunday lunch voucher for four and vouchers for beauty treatments including facials, reiki and eyelash extensions.

The aim of the day is to raise as much money as possible for five animal charities.

These include local dog rescue charity AA Dog Trust and RRN, which rehomes Romanian stray dogs to the UK. The other charities are international: Save Suffering Strays, which works in Sarajevo, Janet Wadi in Egypt and Zenka in Sarabo.

The fundraising event will run from 1pm to 5pm and entrance is free.

To find out more about the event, search "Barney Arms Kedington Animal charities Funday" on Facebook to find the event page.

Family fun at the big picnic

MORE than a thousand people turned out in spite of cloudy weather to enjoy a family fun day yesterday.

The Big Picnic took place in East Town Park and featured activities such as art and circus workshops and a bouncy castle.

The event was organised by the town council and managed by its arts and leisure manager Nick Keeble.

Nick said: "This event has been running for about five years now and it really has become a big picnic. People do bring their own food. That was one of the ideas behind it – people eating together as a family."

"As well as things to bounce and climb on, we try to have some more entertainment and activities."

There were a number of workshops, including a natural art workshop where children could make dream-catchers and a circus skills workshop. A display of unusual and difficult-to-ride bicycles also took place.

Another activity involved performers playing jazz and classical music as they did balloon modelling, with children having the opportunity to join in on the drum.

Nick said: "Our job is to make sure people enjoy themselves. We try to introduce new experiences for them. The council is very keen to make sure that people have access to activities that they might not otherwise be able to do."

It was the latest in a series of summer holiday events that have been organised by Haverhill Town Council and supported by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's parks department.

Previous events included The Big Day Out on Haverhill Recreation Ground in Camps Road, and the Chalk-stone Fun Day at the New Croft football ground.

Nick said: "It's about trying to take place in people's communities rather than at a central location. We try and move them around."

The final event in the series – all of which are free – will be held at Haverhill Rugby Club in School Lane. It will take place next Wednesday, August 19, from 11am until 3pm.

The events are aimed at families with children of primary school ages as well as those under the age of five.

Nick added: "They have been really well supported – we have around 1,000 people attending. There can't be many events that have that kind of turnout."

We're not ALL digital experts...

ACCORDING to recent figures released by the Office for National Statistics, there are approximately 5 million people in the UK (14% of all UK households) who have never used the internet.

The East of England alone is home to 501,000 such people. The figures increase significantly for the most vulnerable groups within our society, such as the elderly. This doesn't account for the further millions of people who simply do not have digital skills or confidence needed to manage sensitive financial information safely online. It also ignores the many thousands of disabled people (and their carers) whose often fluctuating physical abilities mean that managing their affairs online is often impractical or indeed impossible.

Despite these figures, many UK businesses such as banks, utility providers and telecoms companies have put more and more emphasis on digital communication as part of their approach to customer services. Banks have encouraged customers to switch to online-only accounts. Energy companies offer lower costs if you abandon the traditional paper bill. Even the Government is keen to push as many public services as possible online. All of these changes have been based on the assumption that it will be faster and easier for customers.

Many would have you believe that people who don't want to manage their affairs online represent an insignificant minority. These people are painted as luddites clinging on to an outdated and impractical system. The Keep Me Posted campaign is dedicated to making sure that everyone has a choice in how they receive bills and statements from their providers, and aren't financially penalised for needing or wanting to manage their affairs by post. We have found that most of us believe this should be a basic consumer right. Our extensive research has also found that even people who are digitally capable tend to manage their affairs better if they communicate with their provider via post.

We must protect the rights of all consumers and make sure we don't apply a 'one-size-fits-all' approach to something as essential as customer communication with banks and other vital services.

Judith Donovan CBE
Chair, Keep Me Posted

...but why can't we text 999?

SMARTPHONES have become the hub of our daily lives and are now in the pockets of two thirds of UK adults, and the vast majority of young people own one. Even half of 55-64-year-olds now own a smartphone. The Ofcom 2015 Communications Market Report highlights the urgent need for radical changes to be made to the 999 emergency service so that those in need can text as well as call.

Your pictures

IN THE LEAVES: Snakes alive! Eddy Cragg, from Haverhill, took this picture in East Town Park in Haverhill a fortnight ago. "I thought your readers would like to see the wild life that is just around us," he wrote.

■ We love to see your pictures. Send them in JPEG format marked 'Your Pictures' to wendy.davey@cambridge-news.co.uk. Please add your name, address and daytime telephone number, where you took the photo and, if possible, a picture of yourself! We reserve the right to reuse pictures at our discretion.

Much of the technology we need to update our emergency service is available today. But we urgently need to make progress now, with clear ownership from Government and Ministerial leadership.

A data-based emergency service would allow people to text alerts via any appropriate app on a chosen easy-to-remember special number, such as 999 – and these alerts would then be passed to the human emergency operator. The main engineering challenge would be to set up priority routing of alerts to this special number in order to avoid delays at busy times. This needs to be arranged in consultation with the main mobile and app-based text providers, and with makers of new technology like wearables that might aid or even make emergency calls.

Bees crucial to life on Earth

BEES are crucial to life on earth. We rely on them to pollinate our food. But powerful pesticides – called neonicotinoids – are killing them. They're so toxic they've been banned all across Europe. However, the big-money lobbyists have convinced our government to let them back on fields in Suffolk.

Why?

Move is bad news all round

HEALTH

Teens can get jab for brain disease

TEENAGERS are being urged to get vaccinated for a potentially deadly disease.

GPs will be inviting everyone born between September 1 1996 and August 31 1997 to have the jab, which can protect them from meningitis, which causes inflammation of the brain, and blood poisoning.

Both diseases, which can be fatal or cause long-term complications, are caused by meningococcal strains. One of the four strains the vaccine protects against is Men W, which has increased from 22 cases in 2009 to 117 in 2014.

It is important for teens heading off to university to be vaccinated, as they are about to come into contact with lots of new people, some of whom may carry meningococcal bacteria.

Cllr Tony Goldson, Suffolk County Council cabinet member for health, said: "I encourage all eligible teenagers to take up the vaccination offer when they are contacted by their GP. Those aged 19 to 24 who are also first-time university entrants can also contact their GP for the vaccination."

He also encouraged teens to familiarise themselves with meningitis symptoms.

DANGEROUS: The Babraham Roundabout

Improvements to 'spin' roundabout

A ROUNDABOUT known for sending drivers "spinning" uncontrollably has been improved.

The A1307 roundabout, at Babraham, lies between Haverhill and Cambridge.

It has long been a cause of concern to local drivers: in November last year it sent nine drivers spinning 180 degrees in the space of two hours.

The first phase of work on the roundabout was carried out in July this year.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The surface of the road has been retextured to provide more grip.

New white line markings have been put in place to guide users to the safe part of the roundabout, rather than the flat area which can cause vehicles to slide.

The second phase of improvements, due to be completed in the coming weeks, will involve better signage.

Cambridgeshire county councillor for the area, Peter Topping, said: "The feedback I have been getting from people who use the roundabout is that the work that they have done is helpful and having an effect.

"Let's give it a couple of months and see what happens. I am encouraged because the feedback I am getting is that this has been successful."

If after a few months the roundabout is still causing accidents, a complete renovation of the installation, causing disruption to commuters between Cambridge and Haverhill, would be required.

Return of craft and gift market

A CRAFT and gift market is returning to Haverhill this weekend.

The market will take place this Saturday on the market square. It will feature about 15 stalls.

The stalls will sell everything from local sausages to old model cars. Other items available will include jewellery, children's clothes, beer and cakes.

Cllr Alaric Pugh, St Edmundsbury Borough Council's cabinet member for planning and growth, said: "There will be something to suit all tastes at this specialist crafts and gifts market this weekend."

"This is, of course, on top of our brilliant bunch of regular market stallholders who are out trading every week come rain or shine."

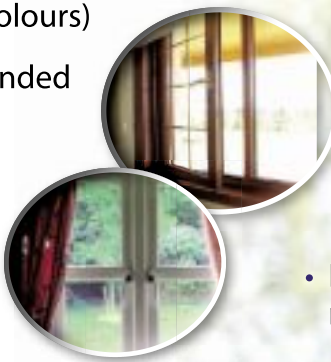

"In recent weeks we have held Haverhill market's first beer festival, our second motors on the market event and a teddy bear-themed event during which children won free mini bears – all of which have been very well received in the town."

"We love our local market and I hope shoppers and visitors will again show their support to our fantastic market this weekend."

The regular Saturday market will trade as usual.

SUCCESS: Dancers from The Ballet Shoe Workshop in Hundon who have completed their examinations

Examination success for ballerinas

DANCERS held a presentation for their friends and family – after achieving a 100 per cent pass rate in their exams.

Students at The Ballet Shoe Workshop in Hundon took part in the presentation on July 15 and 16. The event followed the dancers' success in exams taken in March and June this year in ballet, freestyle and dance exercise.

All of the dancers, aged 3 to 22, passed their exams. Many gained honours, and some senior students took professional exams which marked a start to their own teaching qualifications.

At the presentation they demonstrated their examination work to friends and family.

They were examined by an external examiner appointed by the head office of the International Dance Teachers' Association.

POLICE

Fires started near school

POLICE have stepped up patrols near a primary school after arson and vandalism in the area.

A pergola near Clements Primary School in Greenfields Way suffered "extensive damage" between 4.30pm and 4.50pm on Saturday, August 1. There was evidence left of fires having been started on the ground near the wooden structure.

Another incident took place in the grounds of the school on Monday, August 3. In this case a small amount of arson was done to a bench in the grounds of Clements Primary between 11.45pm and 11.55pm.

Another fire was started on a wooden bench at the nearby junction of Clements Close and Clements Lane. It was discovered on August 4.

A spokesman for Haverhill police said that there was no

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

CCTV of the incidents as they were off to the side of the school, but that police officers were monitoring the situation.

He said: "Patrols have been stepped up in the area of the Clements. We have been going round to make sure no further damage is done."

He urged residents who saw youths or anyone suspicious in the area to call Haverhill Police on 101.

Headteacher of Clements Primary Caroline Zwierzchowska-Dod said: "We are devastated that people are misusing our site and causing so much damage. It stops is from using these areas for learning and costs money which could be better spent on the children."

The arson comes after a number of other fire-starting incidents in Haverhill, including reports of arson at the Howe Road skatepark and a large straw fire on Great Wilsey Farm in Haverhill Road, Little Watting.

To get in touch with the police about the fires on August 1, 3 and 4, call 101 and quote crime reference numbers HH/15/1929, HH/15/1951 and HH/15/1960. Alternatively, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

COUNCIL

Remember to recycle bottle caps

A CAMPAIGN is reminding Suffolk residents to leave the aluminium caps on glass bottles when they recycle them.

The "Leave Your Cap On" campaign aims to increase the recycling of aluminium caps so they can be transformed into bottles, drinks cans, mobile phones and even car parts.

Stickers have been placed on bottle banks across the county to remind residents that caps are completely recyclable.

Cllr Clive Arthey, chairman of the Suffolk Waste Partnership, said:

"The SWP are always looking for ways to improve recycling. Aluminium is a valuable recyclable metal and can be recycled over and over again.

"Thanks to modern methods, it is now easy to recover the tops from glass bottles."

668 mileswithout leaving prison

ON THE GO: Physical education officers Scott Gage and Pete Foody at the start of the Highpoint South 500-mile challenge in aid of St Nicholas Hospice Care

PRISONERS have taken part in a punishing physical challenge to raise money for a local charity.

Twenty-four of the inmates at HMP Highpoint near Stradishall were challenged to cover a distance of 500 miles in five hours on running, cycling, cross-training or rowing gym machines.

The task was part of HMP Highpoint's efforts in the St Nicholas Hospice Care Accumulator Challenge, in which local businesses are asked to generate as much money as possible from a £50 grant.

The prisoners could use any of the machines to complete the challenge, with some staying on the treadmill all day, while others mixed it up.

They managed to exceed the original expectation, covering a whopping 668 miles in the five hours. This smashed their previous record, made two years ago for the same challenge.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

The prisoners taking part were supervised by physical education officers Pete Foody and Scott Gage.

Scott said that participants were only allowed to leave when they promised to collect as much sponsorship money as possible.

He added that the prisoners put in a fantastic effort and rarely stopped at all throughout the event.

Rachel Card, hospice corporate fundraiser, said: "It's great to see so many people getting involved and working together to raise funds."

"Every penny raised by Highpoint and all the other organisations taking part in the Accumulator Challenge go to a great cause and help the hospice to make living with dying better for people facing long-term and life-threatening illnesses, and their families."

The challenge took place at Highpoint South. A similar event is set to take place at Highpoint North on September 6.

The Accumulator Challenge was launched in June, and participating organisations have until October 1 to raise as much money as possible.

It has been running for five years, and last year's challenge raised £70,000 for the hospice. Other participating organisations include Sanofi and Samuel Ward Academy.

PLANNING

New pond idea does not hold water

DEVELOPERS have scrapped plans to install ponds on a housing site - because there would not be enough water to fill them.

The ponds were proposed in the original plans for Bloor Homes' 91-house development off Hamlet Road in the centre of Haverhill.

A decision on the greenery and drainage on the site was deferred by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee after complaints from a homeowner at nearby Croft House.

The complaint was resolved by selling a small piece of land to the homeowner, but while looking into the application, planning officers discovered a problem with the proposed ponds.

A planning officer's report on the application reads: "It has now been ascertained that the 'ponds' would not hold water during normal use and as such would be a bare feature which would not enhance the public open space or provide any level of visual amenity to residents." At a meeting of the development control committee last Thursday, planning officer Gemma Pannell said: "It has become apparent that those ponds would not receive enough water to make them an attractive landscape feature."

Instead, plans have been put in place to create a new landscape feature in the form of a "planted labyrinth with a central tree to provide a focal point".

The new plans were approved by the development control committee at the meeting.

CHARITY

New challenge brings a Smile

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A SUPERMARKET has picked a new "charity of the year" – after three of its managers completed a mountain-climbing challenge for last year's charity.

Managers at Haverhill Sainsbury's Alan Fancy, Robert Mutimer and Gary McMaster completed the Three Peaks Challenge in June.

The intrepid managers, pictured right, scaled the three highest mountains in the UK – Snowdon, Ben Nevis and Scafell Pike – in 23 hours 50 minutes.

They were driven across the country by Alan's wife Liz Fancy, who did around 12 hours' driving, and experienced weather from snow on Ben Nevis to bright sunshine on Snowdon.

They managed to raise an impressive £2,502 for last year's "charity of the year"

St Nicholas Hospice Care, which looks after people with life-limiting illnesses.

Alan said: "We are over the moon with how much we've raised. St Nicholas Hospice said that normally just get a £100 or £200 at a time."

This was combined to the rest of the charity fundraising done by staff at the store, adding up to a total of £3,914.71 for the year as a whole.

Now the staff at Sainsbury's have picked a new charity to support. Through customer voting and their "great place to work" team, they chose brain tumour charity the Smile of Arran Trust.

The trust is named after a Suffolk teen Arran Tosh who lost his life to a brain tumour last year.

It provides grants to charities that support children suffering from brain tumours, and charities conducting brain tumour research.

A team from the charity came into the Haverhill Sainsbury's store on July 31 and August 1 to raise awareness and kick-start the fundraising. The staff at Sainsbury's are hoping to organise another challenge, possibly a walk on Hadrian's wall or the Isle of Arran.

A WIDOW has received an unusual present on her 99th birthday – a grant of £188.

Alice-Lily Harris, known by friends and family as Moppy, received the cheque from the Vernon Trust on the day she turned 99, July 25 this year.

Her daughter Caroline said she was told her mother had been chosen for the grant because she was the oldest widow in three parishes.

Caroline, who runs Jaybeth Animal Sanctuary in Barnardiston near Haverhill, said: "She's gone through two wars and all the things that people went through not too many years ago. She's always positive and has been an absolute brick for so many people."

HEALTH

More surgeries will join forces

TWO South Cambridgeshire GP surgeries are set to merge next year – in a move that mirrors a completed merger in Haverhill.

The partners of Linton Health Centre and Sawston Medical Practice are working towards merging the two partnerships by next April.

Plans to unite Sawston and Linton – which deliver services to a total of 26,000 patients – have been in the pipeline for the last two years.

The move is thought to be the first merger of its kind in South Cambridgeshire, but it mirrors the merging of the former Clements and Christmas Maltings surgeries in Haverhill. The new merged practice, named the Haverhill Family Practice, was launched at the beginning of June.

Partner at the new practice Dr Neville Selby said at the time that the merger was particularly necessary in Haverhill because of an ancient funding formula which has penalised doctors and patients here for 40 years.

FREYA LENG

Gerard Newnham, practice business manager at the Sawston practice, said about the planned changes: "It's about being fit for the future. General practice is increasingly complicated and sophisticated. Small practices with one of two people running it is very difficult. What we're able to do is employ IT managers, HR managers and facility managers which are already now in place rather than one person being Jack of all trades."

Both practices have said the merger is not a cost-saving exercise – there will be no reduction in staffing levels on either site.

Gerard said that at the beginning most patients will continue to see doctors and nurses in their own practices.

Each site will continue to provide all the current services for patients and, over time, it is hoped to be able to provide more services shared between the sites.

And the merger will mean it will be easier to accommodate the extended 8am-8pm opening hours which will eventually be introduced.

The partners said at the moment neither practice could comfortably offer such extended hours alone, but together that becomes more feasible.

Sheila Griffiths, practice manager and partner at Linton Health Centre, added: "Our two practices have been working closely together for two years now, working towards the point of merging. It is a very busy, but exciting, time to be working in general practice at the moment: so many challenges, but also opportunities."

Rovers show community spirit

"WHEN we first came here, people may have thought it was just going to be for a senior football club, but now they're realising it's for the community," said HCSA facilities manager and football development officer, Peter Betts.

"There is a provision for football at this site for children who are three-years-old up to 65-years-old, male and female. We've got good links with the schools where we deliver projects, but more importantly it is used as a community hub."

The New Croft is not just used for sport, but for slimming groups, trade and business fairs, weddings and birthday parties, as well as the boardroom being hired out for meetings. Samuel Ward Academy already benefit from being next door, offering a post-16 academy which offers students routes into football, education and employment.

Alongside Rovers' work with partner clubs in surrounding villages, Betts is eager to expand their reach into primary schools and believes the 3G pitch will help with that aim. "We do school league festivals on site here, but as you can imagine in the winter on grass pitches, it is hard and you're cancelling the fixtures," said Betts. "Young people look forward to playing and you hate to have to break their hearts when it's a waterlogged pitch. They don't really understand, but next year we'll be able to play 52 weeks of the year, no matter what."

Half of the project is being funded by the Football Foundation, Football Stadium Improvement Fund and the Premier League, with HCSA currently in negotiations with partners to secure the rest. They are confident those negotiations will be completed soon and Betts is excited by the various initiatives that are in the pipeline for once the pitch is installed.

"There are big plans to run Monday night leagues and social inclusion projects, which we can link into the police to help reduce anti-social behaviour, which we'd like to do," said Betts. "We haven't had the facility to do that, but having a floodlit facility can accommodate young people and people who need opportunities, and also provide exit routes into employment and maybe coaching and volunteer roles internally. There are so many opportunities which are going to come from it."

Haverhill Rovers ready

AS the new season kicked off this week-end, Haverhill Rovers aren't letting their spirits be dampened by an early loss against Gorleston.

One positive from the 1-0 defeat was the fact the highest crowd of opening day in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division was at the New Croft.

Rovers hope to capitalise on that interest in the area for the 2015/16 season and beyond, particularly with a high proportion of their team now coming from the town.

"The team are looking very positive," said chairman Ali Shulver. "We've got the highest level of home players in the league with around 96 per cent of our players being Haverhill lads. It's great when you've got the quality in and around the town to use mostly local players. Our manager is very focussed on local talent and good team spirit plus hard work. We've got some really talented youngsters who are being nurtured into the first team."

Last season proved a transitional one for Rovers, with boss Dean Greygoose departing early in the season and Shinn

READY FOR THE FRAY: Haverhill Rovers are focussed on a season of quality football taking over as player-manager. Although Rovers ended the season fourth from bottom in the Premier Division, Shulver and the club were happy with their overall performance.

Haverhill Community Sports Associations

Haverhill Rovers Football Club 2015/16

for a full season ahead

"We changed our manager during the course of the season which was a challenge and a testing time," said Shulver, reflecting on the 2014/15 campaign.

"We didn't want to rush into a decision to appoint a new manager so it took us a good two or three months to do it. During that time we decided to use the season as consolidation. We didn't go out and spend silly amounts of money and we kept the team in the Premier Division status so in the end it was quite a successful season. With the challenging start we had we were happy to finish where we did."

These are exciting times for Rovers both on and off the field, with a 3G playing surface set to give more opportunities to the footballers of Haverhill as the next stage of development at the New Croft takes shape. Haverhill Community Sports Association (HCSA) are pushing ahead with a £600,000 project to install the floodlit artificial surface at the Chalkstone Way venue and hope to have it in use by next year. It will be installed on what is currently the training pitch at the New Croft, allowing Rovers to expand what they can offer to the community. From having 12 teams when they moved to the ground five years ago, Rovers expect to have 35 teams at all age groups by the 2016/17 season.

The town's other team, Haverhill Borough, also use the ground and with the nearest 3G pitch currently eight miles away in Linton, there is a need for a facility in the town.

Follow developments at pitchero.com/clubs/haverhillroversfc.

Dressed for success

THE archetypal 80s band, Spandau Ballet return for a second time to Newmarket, playing the Newmarket Nights show tomorrow.

They arrived on our radio, in our magazines and on our screens right at the beginning of the 1980s, with the sense that they were a team, a gang, albeit an extremely extravagantly-dressed kind of a gang. Founded in the punk era by school friends Gary Kemp, John Keeble and Steve Norman, Tony Hadley was enlisted to sing and then Gary's younger brother Martin joined on bass a couple of years later.

Martin, pictured right, says: "It's always a bit of a blur. There are some moments that are really vivid, and some moments that I'll catch on MTV and look at it, and it feels like somebody else. There are some moments that I'm not sure if I remember, or if they're from a video."

Martin clearly adored the whole whirlwind, though. "The 80s was a great period, there were great songs coming from everywhere, it just seemed to be a real stream of good stuff coming out."

Genuinely excited and animated when talking about the current tour, Martin has even gained a different perspective on the band's immense back-catalogue by performing around the world.

"It's a funny thing," he explains "because over here we think that everybody's going to think the best Spandau track is Gold. But you go to different countries and they have different favourites. If you go to America the national anthem of slow songs over there is True, and then in Italy, for example, it's I Fly For You. Countries joined the Spandau train at different times, so they all have their big Spandau tracks."

He refuses to be drawn on what his own particular favourite is, though.

A contented family man, having been happily married to fellow 80s star Pepsi (of Wham-backing-singers Pepsi and Shirley fame), and with grown up kids, his philosophy on life appears to have served him well through the years of craziness and beyond. "I love the whole idea of entertainment – everything that I do is my hobby. I tell my kids that a lot."

And, as he anticipates the band's second appearance at Newmarket Nights this weekend (they first played there in 2010), he fondly remembers the sun going down and the fantastic people.

Spandau Ballet play Newmarket Nights on Friday 12.30pm to 10pm, tickets £34-£55, newmarkettickets.thejockeyclub.co.uk / 0844 579 3010.

The Three Little Pigs are coming to Arts Centre

THE THREE LITTLE PIGS

● Come along to this year's FLOWER FESTIVAL tomorrow from 1.30pm to 5pm and Saturday from 10am to 4pm. Be inspired by the wonderful flower arrangements on show; oh to be talented!

● Circo Ridicoloso brings a re-imagining of the classic tale THE THREE LITTLE PIGS to Haverhill on Friday 21 August at 2pm. Danny has ordered a Story Telling Kit which has arrived in a crate. The crate contains all the props Danny will need to tell the story or does it? Danny tells the curly tale with lots of huff and puff that will blow you away – Oink! Suitable for ages 3+, please be aware the show has loud balloon pops!

● On the cinema front we have the yellow tic-tacs otherwise known as MINIONS 2D (U) on Thursday 20 August at 10.30am. With the voices of Michael Keaton, Sandra Bullock and John Hamm Kevin, teenage rebel Stuart and lovable little Bob are on a global road trip, where they earn a chance to work for a new boss – the world's first female super-villain. Make sure you stay to the very end of the credits. JURASSIC WORLD 2D (12A) follows at 2.30pm – when a giant genetically-created dinosaur escapes and wreaks havoc, the park's lead behavioural scientist must try to save the terrified tourists. There's only one sensible response to that horrendous scenario – say 'eek' and pass out!

● Events to look out for include a live broadcast by the Royal Shakespeare Company of OTHELLO on Wednesday 26 August at 7pm starring Hugh Quarshie and Lucian Msamati, an NT Live broadcast of THE BEAUX' STRATAGEM on Thursday 3 September at 7pm, the ever popular 'FROGGIE' RAYMOND FROGGATT, one of Britain's most prolific singer-songwriters performing his unique mix of country music and rock and roll on Saturday 5 September at 7.30pm and a tribute to Patsy Cline (along with Jim Reeves and Hank Williams) on Friday 18 September at 7.30pm.

● Our new programme is now on sale, so check in to our website and look out for our new brochure to find out what we have in store.

BEAULIEU: Autojumble event due

Get your stuff ready for 49th Autojumble at the Beaulieu show

THERE are just three weeks to go until visitors from all over Europe descend on Beaulieu's event fields for the 49th annual International Autojumble, on September 5 and 6.

All the regular features of the Beaulieu Autojumble will be present, including over 2,000 stands bursting with all kinds of motoring bargains. The Dealmart will have up to 100 classic cars for sale while the Automart will have its usual eclectic collection of vehicles, from restoration projects to cars in concours condition. Bonhams popular auction of collectors' cars and motorcycles is a Saturday highlight and Sunday Trunk Traders will bring an injection of new stock to the fields.

For more information, visit internationalautojumble.co.uk.

Fiat adds new accessories for 500X Crossover

MOPAR – the Fiat Chrysler Automobiles brand for services, customer care, spare parts and accessories – has unveiled an extensive range of accessories and personalisation options for the new Fiat 500X crossover.

More than 100 high-quality accessories have been designed specifically for the Fiat 500X crossover to enhance its functionality and allow customers to adapt the look of their vehicle to their particular personalities. The unique range of 18-inch alloy wheels, for example, are offered in a range of colours and aesthetic treatments, including machined silver with white recesses, red wheels with black recesses and all-black wheels, and all priced from £816 for a set of four.

Door mirror fairings are offered in nine colour options from £61 per pair, while door moulding inserts are available in five finishes from £214 a set and there are also a range of original decals for the roof, bonnet and upper and lower body sides in a variety of colours designed to coordinate perfectly with other accessories in the same colour. Pricing for side decals start at £81 while the roof/bonnet decals start at £127.

There are six "Xtra Pack" kits available which combine a selection of options in single, great-value bundles. The kits – offered in white, red, bronze and beige – feature matching bonnet/roof stripes, mirror fairings and door moulding inserts and are priced at £305, a saving of almost £100 compared to the individually-priced parts. For those who prefer the classic look, the Chrome Xtra Pack (Pop, Pop Star and Lounge only) includes chrome-effect mirror fairings, door moulding inserts, fog light trims and a chrome bonnet moulding, while the Black Xtra Pack includes black bonnet and roof decals and black mirror caps but excludes door moulding inserts as the mouldings are already black.

The Fiat 500X's functionality is enhanced by a wide range of roof systems, from the 360-litre Freebox (£259) to sports equipment systems (from £112). The Winter Xtra Pack, for example, combines custom-fit roof bars with an adaptor capable of securely and safely carrying four skis or two snowboards as well as a moulded cargo bay protector for snow-covered boots and clothing. The Summer Xtra Pack consists of the same roof bars combined with a bike carrier and moulded cargo area tray and is currently available for £235, a saving of £78 compared to the price of buying the roof bars (£137), boot protector (£40) and bike carrier (£136) separately.

FIAT 500X CROSSOVER: Bike carrier is tagged at £136

Cargo bay organiser kits are also available, which fit into a special base structure comprised of two slide rails that are fixed to the floor using special adaptors (£345). Telescopic bars (£62), spring-loaded bands (£47) and organiser boxes (£31) can then be installed to separate, organise and restrain all manner of cargo objects.

A detachable tow bar (£360) with wiring systems (from £168) and a towbar-mounted two-bike carrier system (£613) are also available, while a variety of stylish key covers (£43 per twin pack) and carbon-look mirror fairings (in white or black from £120) round out the options currently available for the 500X.

Toyota expands hybrid options

OWNING a new Toyota Hybrid becomes easier than ever before with two new models joining the Yaris Hybrid line-up. The addition of Active and Sport versions means there's now a hybrid in all four grades in Toyota's top-selling supermini range.

Active becomes the new entry point to Toyota's clean, efficient and super-smooth hybrid technology. The five-door hatch comes equipped with dual-zone climate control, trip computer, power front windows and a split-folding rear seats.

What also comes as standard is the quiet and refined Toyota hybrid experience together with 75g/km CO2 emissions and official combined cycle fuel economy of 85.6mpg. The low emissions mean no annual road tax (VED) to pay and, for London drivers, exemption from the congestion charge.

The Sport cuts a sharper

YARIS HYBRID: Toyota latest dash with rear privacy glass, 16-inch alloy wheels, rear spoiler and a rear pillar treatment that creates a floating roof effect. Other key features include climate control, power windows all round and the Toyota Touch 2 multimedia system with DAB radio, Bluetooth, touchscreen control and rear view camera. An optional Skyview panoramic roof can also be specified (£550).

Using the larger alloy wheel brings a modest change in the benchmark figures to 82g/km and 78.5mpg but Yaris Hybrid Sport retains the benefit of zero road tax.

The new Yaris Hybrid Active is launched with a price tag of £14,995, including a special £300 introductory customer saving. Yaris Hybrid Sport is priced at £16,695.

Lexus' hoverboard track is powered by magnetic levitation

THE Lexus Hoverboard has taken flight, a feat captured in Slide, a new film recording the success of the latest project in Lexus's Amazing in Motion campaign.

The official reveal of the Lexus Hoverboard in action marks the culmination of 18 months of design and technology planning and weeks of testing at a specially constructed "hoverpark" near Barcelona.

The task of putting the machine through its paces fell to international pro-skateboard star Ross McGouran, who said: "I've spent 20 years skateboarding, but without friction it feels like I've had to learn a whole new skill, particularly in the stance and balance you need to ride the hoverboard."

Lexus worked with a team of scientists from IFW Dresden and evico GmbH who specialise in magnetic levitation technology. Following extensive testing with McGouran in Germany, the team were determined to push the hoverboard to its limits, conducting further tests in a dynamic environment.

The hoverpark was constructed using around 200 metres of magnetic track set beneath the surface of an area similar to a conventional skate park. This gave Lexus and McGouran the opportunity to demonstrate tricks that no skateboard could ever perform, including travelling across water. The results are captured in Slide, a film helmed by award-winning director Henry-Alex Rubin.

The Lexus Hoverboard features two cryostats, reservoirs which contain superconducting material, kept at -197°C through immersion in liquid nitrogen. The board is placed above a track fitted with permanent magnets to achieve magnetic levitation.

Dr Oliver de Hass, CEO of evico, said: "The magnetic field from the track is effectively 'frozen' into the superconductors in the board, maintaining the distance between the board and track - essentially keeping the board in a hover. The force is strong enough that the rider can stand and even jump on the board."

Mark Templin, executive vice president Lexus International, said: "We set out to push the boundaries of technology, design and innovation to make the impossible possible, collaborating with partners who share our passion for creating enjoyment out of motion."

"As we combined our technology and expertise, we discovered that making a hoverboard isn't an easy process. We've experienced highs and lows and have overcome a few challenges, but through mutual determination we have created a demonstration of our philosophy in design and technology to create Amazing in Motion."

The Lexus Hoverboard film Slide features the new hoverboard together with the new GS F saloon, the forthcoming addition to Lexus's F-designated range of high-performance models.

Coronation Street - The Tour

Departing 25 October 2015

Here's your chance to stroll down the famous cobbles of Coronation Street, former home to years of drama, laughter and tears. A must for all Corrie fans - you'll see original sets, including the Rovers bar, enjoy fascinating facts and stories from your studio guide about the show, plus lots more.

Our price includes

- Return coach travel
- One night's dinner, bed and English breakfast accommodation in a good hotel in the

Climb on and join our team

Local World publish award-winning local newspapers and websites across our extensive portfolio, throughout the region

TELESALES EXECUTIVE

Milton, Cambridge

Are you bubbly and enthusiastic, along with being hard working and have the drive to succeed?

We are looking for a highly motivated individual to gain new business by selling effective and exciting campaigns. The Advertising Sales Teams would like you to work with them on some of the best read newspapers and associated websites covering the region. You would join our friendly sales departments as a Telesales Executive. The role involves a high level of cold calling to local businesses who will benefit from advertising in our newspapers and on our websites. Being outgoing and talkative, with a good telephone manner would be a necessity, but we will give you all the help and training you need.

If you feel you are suited to this position and are interested in applying, then please request an application form by emailing louisa.kugeniek@localworld.co.uk

We encourage applications from all walks of life and all applications will be considered on merit. It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, ages, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union membership.

WE OFFER

- Up to £18,000 per year basic
- A generous bonus structure
- Great potential for career development
- 25 days holiday per year
- Regular training
- Strong support from your team and your manager
- Contributory pension and healthcare after a qualifying period.

Opportunity is at your fingertips

Karate Black belt success for Parthipan

KATIRAVAN Parthipan has become the latest member of Chalkstone Karate Club to secure a black belt.

The 12-year-old (below) is one of the youngest members at the club to come through the gruelling grading exam in which he had to demonstrate hundreds of techniques, perform kata and fight.

The club meets every Tuesday at 7pm at the Chalkstone Community Centre, Haverhill, and is on the look out for new members. For more details contact Steve Hart on 07747 063981.

Sibling rivalry at Haverhill junior open

Tennis

SIBLING rivalry came to the fore at Haverhill Tennis Club's annual junior open as brothers Alfie and Freddie Paffett contested the final of the Mini Red tournament.

A closely-fought match saw younger brother Alfie emerge triumphant but not before a fine comeback by Freddie.

From 7-1 down, he roared back to level the scores at 10-10. However, he was unable to maintain the momentum, and Alfie triumphed 14-12.

Ryan Hunt produced an impressive display to claim third place.

In the mini orange event, Haverhill's Sam Cates beat regional player George Woodcock in the final despite losing the first set.

Jason Butler claimed the honours in the under-12 age group, beating Harvey Paffett 4-0, 3-5, 10-4 in the final.

Paffett had earlier defeated top seed Zac Blaney 4-0, 4-2 in the semi-finals while Butler had beaten Ralph Holmes, who finished in third place.

In the under-16 boys' event, Sam Howard beat club mate and top seed Andreas Kitsis 6-0, 6-2 in the final.

Below - the top four boys in the under-12 category with tournament sponsor and DTM driver Gary Paffett, winner Jason Butler, runner-up Harvey Paffett, third-placed Ralph Holmes and Zac Blaney

The pair met again in the doubles final. Kitsis and Freddie Holmes took the first set against Howard and Greg Birch 7-5, but the latter pair took the next set and won the championship tie-break 10-6.

The under-18 event was the only one where the winner was not from Haverhill.

Aaron Thorne faced William Gurton in the final, with the latter coming out on top 6-3, 6-3.

Borough fightback is not enough against Wivenhoe

A SPIRITED comeback from Haverhill Borough was not enough as they lost 3-2 at home to Wivenhoe in the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division last night.

The visitors were 3-0 up after around an hour. Craig Pruden pulled a goal back in the 66th minute and Leon Bailey hit the post three minutes later. Bailey did find the net in the 82nd minute, but Borough could not find an equaliser.

On Saturday Haverhill Borough enjoyed a 4-0 win at Dereham Town reserves.

Borough took the lead after 15 minutes when Pruden set up Matt Staines who fired home from the edge of the penalty area.

Gareth Thomas doubled the lead early in the second half before Pruden added a third after racing on to Aaron Forshaw's through ball.

Chris Thomas completed the scoring after Pruden's shot had been parried.

Haverhill Rovers lost 6-1 to Stanway Rovers in the Premier Division on Tuesday night.

Rovers went behind in the fourth minute and although keeper Alex Archer made some fine saves, there was nothing he could do in the 23rd minute when Stanway added their second.

Haverhill were dealt a further blow when Ricky Spriggs was sent off for a high challenge, but just before half time Ryan Weaver almost pulled a goal back when his shot struck the post.

Stanway needed just four minutes of the second half to go 3-0 up and they scored a fourth from the penalty spot after a foul by Tye Alleyne.

Haverhill grabbed a consolation goal in the 58th minute when the Stanway keeper failed to collect player-manager Michael Shinn's free kick, allowing Alleyne to scramble the ball home.

Marcus Hunt then hit the post as Haverhill threatened to score a second, but two more late goals, the second another penalty after Hunt had brought an attacker down in the area, sealed the win for Stanway.

On Saturday Rovers had the highest gate in the Premier Division but it could not stop them losing 1-0 at Gorleston.

The decisive goal came in the eighth minute when a low shot bounced in front of keeper Archer and into the net.

Spriggs headed wide in response, and in the second half substitute Rory Jebb was denied by a fine save from the Gorleston keeper.

Weaver went down in the area under a challenge by the keeper two minutes from time but Rovers' appeals for a penalty were turned down.

Wilkins and Poole on form with the ball

HAVERHILL earned a 66-run win at Ipswich in Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division Two.

Sam Powell top-scored with 69 as the visitors set a target of 219 for 6.

Ben Wilkins and Dan Poole claimed three scalps each as Ipswich were dismissed for 153.

Captain Joe Woodley said: "I'm very pleased with a fairly comprehensive victory.

"Although we got 219, we should have perhaps scored 240 from our initial base, but it didn't matter as our bowling showed great discipline."

Weston Colville lost by 50 runs at Abington in Tucker Gardner Cambs & Hunts Premier League, Division Two.
